

A New Map for Relationships

Dorothe & Martin Hellman

First United Methodist Church of Palo Alto
Kohlstedt Hall, 625 Hamilton Avenue, Palo Alto, CA
Sunday, July 23 at 7:00 pm.

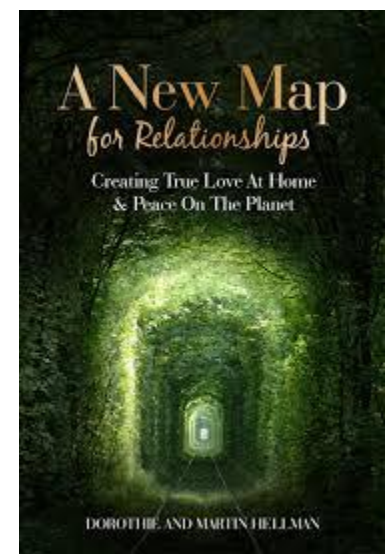

Come hear the Hellmans tell how they transformed an almost failed marriage into one where they reclaimed the true love that they felt when they first met fifty years ago. They will reveal the mistakes that nearly ended their marriage, as well as the positive changes that allowed them to build a truly loving relationship.

They will also explain why the lessons they learned are the same ones the nations of the world need to grasp to build a more peaceful, sustainable planet. Their commitment led them to co-author the book entitled A New Map for Relationships: Creating True Love at Home & Peace on the Planet.

Admission: Free [www.anewmap.com]

Cosponsored by Multifaith Voices for Peace and Justice

Dorothe Hellman was trained as a CPA and worked at Touche Ross – now Deloitte. In the 1980s she was VP for Financial Support at the Beyond War Foundation.

Martin Hellman is a Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering at Stanford University. He shared the 2016 Turing Award for his pioneering work on public-key cryptography.